On January 25, 1979 we were inspected by EPA's Bruce Varner and John Standard. The inspection consisted of a general tour of the operation with special emphasis on prior violation areas.

Both inspectors expressed their satisfaction with the condition of all the facilities in the plant. They were also pleased with the solutions to all the violation items cited in EPA's previous reports.

They also visited the landfill site for inspection after leaving the plant. I have contacted Bruce Varner and was assured that they found no problems at the landfill site.

We are going to release to the respective local papers a rebuttal to the previous articles concerning the cited violations by EPA. Bruce Varner saw no problem in doing so and said that if the papers needed confirmation, to call him.

We must now continue to enforce the policies used to get the plant in the excellent condition it was during the inspection. EPA could come at any time for another inspection and if any violations were found we could be cited again or even fined severely.

I want to thank everyone for putting in a great deal of effort to accomplish what we did for this inspection and for future efforts to keep the plant in the same condition it was in for the recent inspection.
